TALK

Negated fragment answers in English: A discourse-oriented and construction-based perspective

Prof. Dr. Jong-Bok Kim (President of the Linguistics Society Korea; Kyung Hee University of Seoul) will be giving the talk "Negated fragment answers in English: A discourse-oriented and construction-based perspective".

Fragment answers involve a type of ellipsis that occurs in answers to questions and these answers can be hosted by the negator 'not' (e.g., What was his motive? Not money.). The central research questions for such a negative fragment answer concern what licenses the fragment, how we can obtain a sentential meaning from its nonsentential status, and what is its syntactic structure. In attempting to answer these questions, there have been two main approaches: deletion-based sentential approaches and surface-oriented nonsentential approaches. This paper first discusses attested corpus data of such negated fragment answers that could challenge both directions and then argues for a direct interpretation (DI) nonsentential approach in which the interpretation of negative fragments is achieved by discourse machinery. The suggested approach shows that once we have a system that represents structured discourse structures, we could have straightforward mapping relations from a negated fragment answer to a proper propositional meaning.

When? Friday, July 05 | 3 pm

Where? HS 1236

NEW FACES AT THE ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

Anna-Lena Oldehus

Hello everyone,

My name is Anna-Lena Oldehus (she/ her) and I am very excited to start my postdoc position at the English Department this July! After completing my BA and MA studies at Leibniz University of Hannover, I have concluded my doctoral studies with my dissertation "Weird! Affect and Whiteness in Contemporary Immigrant Literature" earlier this year. Besides teaching as an instructor in American Studies in Hannover, I used to be co-speaker of the Diversity Roundtable of the German Association of American Studies. I have been a visiting scholar at the University of California at Berkeley, and a visiting instructor at the University of Warsaw and the University of Wroclaw. Now, I am very much looking forward to joining JProf. Maria Sulimma and to dive into the research fields of Urban Studies and Environmental Humanities in order to develop a second research project. Feel free to drop by my office or to reach out via email any time. I'm looking forward to meeting you all!

NEW FACES AT THE ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

Kebrina Bailey

Hello everyone,

I have settled on the idea that establishing a welcoming research environment is always easier when there are like-minded people working together. Hence, my main goal for this year is to expand my network within the Freiburg University community. I am currently writing my PhD dissertation which focuses on Creole and English: Language Variations in the Caribbean. I am a part of the Englisches Seminar at the chair of Prof. Dr. Dr. h.c. Christian Mair. My research interests include World Englishes, postcolonial varieties of Englishes and corpus linguistics with a special focus on language variations and attitudes towards language in the anglophone Caribbean. For the upcoming winter semester, I will be teaching a Proseminar course on Creole and English in Caribbean. I am looking forward to meeting many of you. Please feel free to visit me during my office hours or send me an email kebrina.bailey@anglistik.uni-freiburg.de if you wish to know more.

SCHOLARSHIP

Suttner Stipendium 2024

Die mittlerweile vierte Ausschreibungsrunde des Bertha von Suttner-Studienwerks (BvS) hat begonnen: Über die BvS-Website können Studierende und Promovierende ab sofort ihre Unterlagen für das Suttner-Stipendium 2024 einreichen. Wer den Auswahlprozess erfolgreich absolviert, wird ideell und finanziell gefördert.

Zugelassen sind Studierende aller Fachbereiche, Studienanfänger*innen wie Promovierende. Da das Bertha von Suttner-Studienwerk im Unterschied zu den religiös ausgerichteten Förderwerken noch keine staatliche Finanzierung erhält, können Promovierende und Studierende derzeit nur mit einem

CONTEMPORARY LITERATURE BOOK CLUB

Open Throat (2023)

The Contemporary Literature Book Club is a meeting group intended for the discussion of contemporary literature in the English language. Students, faculty, and staff are always welcome to join us.

This month, the group will discuss Henry Hoke, Open Throat (2023)

A queer and dangerously hungry mountain lion lives in the drought-devastated land under the Hollywood sign. Lonely and fascinated by humanity's foibles, the lion spends their days protecting the welfare of a nearby homeless encampment, observing obnoxious hikers complain about their trauma, and, in quiet moments, grappling with the complexities of their gender identity, memories of a vicious father, and the indignities of sentience. "I have so much language in my brain," our lion says, "and nowhere to put it."

When a man-made fire engulfs the encampment, the lion is forced from the hills down into the city the hikers call "ellay." As the lion confronts a carousel of temptations and threats, they take us on a tour that spans the cruel inequalities of Los Angeles and the toll of climate grief, while scrambling to avoid earthquakes, floods, and the noise of their own conflicted psyche. But even when salvation finally seems within reach, they are forced to face down the ultimate question: Do they want to eat a person, or become one?

When? Thursday, July 11 | 2.15–3.45 pm
Where? Übungsraum 2 (KG IV)

Participants are expected to complete a playthrough of the selected game in advance of each session.

In July, the club will continue their theme Food by discussing Turnip Boy Commits Tax Evasion (2020).
